

Call For Participants!

Are you active on social media?

Noticed all the food diary content popping up in your feed?
We'd love for you to participate in this voluntary research study!

What does the study involve?

- an anonymous online survey about your experiences with food diary content on social media
- about 20 minutes of your time

Please participate if you :

- are aged 18-29
- are a regular user of social media platform(s)
- have not been diagnosed with any psychiatric conditions
- are fluent in English
